CREDIT SUISSE FIRST BOSTON LLC);

RBS SECURITIES INC. (f/k/a

ORDER

Pursuant to the agreement of the Plaintiff Commonwealth of Virginia ex rel. Integra REC LLC and Defendants Countrywide Securities Corporation; Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC; Goldman, Sachs & Co.; RBS Securities Inc.; and, UBS Securities LLC (collectively, the "Parties"), the Court ORDERS a stay of this action until November 30, 2015 in order to allow for settlement discussions before the Honorable David J. Novak, United States Magistrate Judge.

This stay shall be subject to the limitations described on page 7 of the June 15, 2015 Order entered by the Honorable David J. Novak. (See ECF No. 122.)

In the parallel state court action, Deutsche Bank Securities Inc. ("DBSI") appeared specially for the limited purpose of objecting to personal jurisdiction and moving to dismiss the Complaint. In reliance on the Commonwealth's representation that the Commonwealth would not argue that by participating in the ongoing settlement discussions in the instant action DBSI had waived its jurisdictional objection, DBSI accepted the Court's invitation to participate in the settlement discussions. The Commonwealth has renewed and expanded its representation to encompass DBSI's continued participation in the settlement discussions, including without limitation providing information to the Commonwealth and/or the Court and seeking information from the Commonwealth in compliance with this Order. Accordingly, the Court finds that DBSI's participation in the instant settlement discussions shall not be deemed to be engaging in conduct related "to adjudicating the merits of the case" within the contemplation of Virginia Code § 8.01-277.1, and that, accordingly, such participation will not waive or compromise in any respect DBSI's objection to personal jurisdiction.

Let the Clerk send a copy of this Order to all counsel of record and to the Honorable David J. Novak, United States Magistrate Judge.

It is so ORDERED.
